KEITARO HARADA Conductor

Keitaro Harada is armed with intensity and depth, consistently providing riveting concerts and opera performances in Asia, the Americas, and Europe. As Music Director of the Savannah Philharmonic since the 2020–21 season, Harada transformed the orchestra and energized audiences with his imaginative programs and charismatic presence. In 2024, Harada became a Permanent Conductor of the Tokyo Symphony Orchestra, he also appears frequently with the NHK Symphony Orchestra, and is Principal Guest Conductor and Artistic Partner for the Aichi Chamber Orchestra. His eclectic musical scope ranges from symphony, opera, and chamber music to pops, film scores, educational outreach, and multidisciplinary projects. Harada is a recipient of the 2023 Sir Georg Solti Conducting Award.

In the 2024–25 season, Harada made his debut with Adelaide Symphony and Cincinnati Symphony. Recent highlights include engagements with the symphony orchestras of Houston, Seattle, NHK, Yomiuri Nippon, Osaka, Tokyo, Hawaii, Fort Worth, Indianapolis, Memphis, Louisiana, Charlotte, West Virginia, Tucson, Phoenix, and Virginia, among others.

As the Seiji Ozawa Fellow at the Tanglewood Music Center in 2010, Harada delivered a critically acclaimed performance of Strauss' Ariadne auf Naxos. And has since led performances of Mozart's Die Zauberflöte, Leoncavallo's Pagliacci, Bizet's Carmen, and Britten's Turn of the Screw, Don Pasquale, La fille du régiment, and Tosca. In the 2022–23 season, he debuted at Nihonkai Opera in Tokyo with Orphée aux enfers, and he returned to Cincinnati Opera to conduct a critically acclaimed Madama Butterfly. In 2024, he led La fanciulla del West at North Carolina Opera and La fille du régiment at Nissay Theatre in Tokyo.

Harada was Associate Conductor for four years at the Cincinnati Symphony and Pops, where he assisted Music Director Louis Langrée and collaborated with James Conlon and Juanjo Mena at the orchestra's annual May Festival. He is a six-time recipient of The Solti Foundation US Career Assistance Award, and in 2013 he was invited to the Bruno Walter National Conductor Preview. He studied with Lorin Maazel at Castleton Festival and Fabio Luisi at the Pacific Music Festival, where, at Valery Gergiev's invitation, he served on the festival's faculty in 2016, 2018, and 2021.

NOTES ON THE PROGRAM

Made famous by Disney's Fantasia, Paul Dukas wrote The Sorcerer's Apprentice in 1897, inspired by a Goethe poem about a young apprentice who used magic to escape his daily chores. He soon discovered he couldn't reverse the spell. If you're familiar with the Disney animation, you'll remember the scene: the brooms and buckets multiply and so does the chaos, marked by the driving rhythm of the bassoons.

Leonard Bernstein's West Side Story opened on Broadway in 1957, and he reworked the score for the concert hall in 1960. Without singers, the orchestra carries the drama alone: Listen for the finger snaps in the Prologue, the shouts from the players in the Mambo, and the edgy yet restrained energy of the "Cool" Fugue. The Rumble is as fierce as its title suggests, and the Finale answers it with a hushed return of the melody from "Somewhere."

After intermission, we turn to Joe Hisaishi, longtime collaborator of filmmaker Hayao Miyazaki. His score for Spirited Away (2001) accompanies a girl who wanders into a bathhouse for spirits. The Suite begins with the tender, simple melody of "One Summer's Day," moves through the strangeness of "No Face" and the urgency of "The Dragon Boy," and arrives at "The Sixth Station," where a train glides across a flooded plain and the music seems almost to hold still.

We close with George Gershwin's An American in Paris. Jazz infused rhythms, vivid orchestration, and iconic taxi horns paint a bustling cityscape. The music moves from bright optimism to reflective longing, creating a cinematic portrait of adventure, nostalgia, and newfound belonging.
